Pet emergency wallet card and window sticker

Fill in by hand. Print at 100 percent ("actual size"), not "fit to page". Cut along the dashed lines. Put the sticker on or near your front door where rescue workers can see it, and keep a card in your wallet and one in the pet kit.

PETS INSIDE

Rescue workers: animals live here.

How many, and what kind _____

Where they hide _____

Vet name _____

Vet phone _____

My phone _____

Leaving with your pets? Write EVACUATED across this sticker.

PETS INSIDE

Rescue workers: animals live here.

How many, and what kind _____

Where they hide _____

Vet name _____

Vet phone _____

My phone _____

Leaving with your pets? Write EVACUATED across this sticker.

PET EMERGENCY CARD

petsafecoalition.org

Pet name and kind _____

Color and markings _____

Microchip number and company _____

Medicine or medical needs _____

Vet and phone _____

Owner and phone _____

Contact outside my area _____

Where we will go _____

PET EMERGENCY CARD

petsafecoalition.org

Pet name and kind _____

Color and markings _____

Microchip number and company _____

Medicine or medical needs _____

Vet and phone _____

Owner and phone _____

Contact outside my area _____

Where we will go _____

PET EMERGENCY CARD

petsafecoalition.org

Pet name and kind _____

Color and markings _____

Microchip number and company _____

Medicine or medical needs _____

Vet and phone _____

Owner and phone _____

Contact outside my area _____

Where we will go _____

PET EMERGENCY CARD

petsafecoalition.org

Pet name and kind _____

Color and markings _____

Microchip number and company _____

Medicine or medical needs _____

Vet and phone _____

Owner and phone _____

Contact outside my area _____

Where we will go _____

Based on advice from the ASPCA (rescue alert sticker, ID tags), the American Red Cross and the AVMA (what identification should show). Details and sources: petsafecoalition.org/pet-emergency-wallet-card/. Checked 17 October 2026.

Purrify Management Inc. sponsors this site. This site is not the former Pet Safe Coalition, and it is not a charity.